DeMint Urges 177 Graduates To Show Enthusiasm In Life

"You can cop out or commit yourself, and I encourage you to change something besides the channels on your television--make changes for the better in the world around you," the 177 Saint Joseph's College graduates were told here June 18 by Thomas DeMint, senior vice-president and group creative director of the J. Walter Thompson Advertising Company in Chicago.

Honorary degrees were presented to DeMint; James Carmody, executive vice-president of the Drovers Bank of Chicago; Louise Summerhill, founder of Birthright, an international pregnancy service; Keith Robinson, publisher of the Rensselaer Republican, and Kate Robinson, benefactor of Saint Joseph's.

The graduating class for these 83rd annual commencement exercises included 121 men

DeMint stressed the importance of enthusiasm, noting "Pope John XXIII had it, writer Carl Reiner has it, and you graduates have it--enthusiasm. The world often looks for miracles, and today's miracle may well be you graduates and your enthusiasm."

He encouraged graduates to "be different, be unusual; zig when the world around you is zagging. The future lies with you and your God-given enthusiasm. Try to do something in this life that will last longer than you do."

Paraphrasing one of the philosophies often espoused by Reiner, DeMint told the graduates to use their talent, intelligence and personality to humanize, not dehumanize the world.

DeMint warned graduates "don't do a disappearing act after today. You live in an exciting, ironic age filled with spectacular renewals and many developments in technology. The enthusiasm you bring to this world can indeed make a great deal of difference."

Prior to DeMint's address, two of the three valedictorians of the class of 1978 delivered brief remarks. Paul Dowling, biology-chemistry major from Watertown, N.Y., said "Let us never forget, Saint Joseph's is people." Ted Kundrat, history major from Valparaiso, Ind., told his classmates "the choice is ours to make of ourselves what we want."

and 56 women. There were 174 undergraduate degrees awarded, plus three master's degrees in music.

McHale Trust Gives $80,000 To Saint Joe

Saint Joseph's College has received a gift of $80,000 from a charitable trust created by the late Frank M. McHale of Indianapolis, a former trustee of the college.

Gifts totaling $185,000 from the McHale charitable trust have been announced by the First National Bank of Logansport, trustee of the charitable trust.

Within the same trust, Associated Colleges of Indiana received a gift of $7,500.

The trust was established by McHale's will and the income from the trust properties is to be used for religious, charitable, scientific, literary and educational purposes.

The advisory committee to the trust designated by McHale's will is composed of Katharine Gaither and William F. Welch of Indianapolis, and Patrick E. McNary, president of the First National Bank of Logansport.

SJC Student Committee Restores Campus Grotto

One of the most beautiful scenes on the Saint Joseph's College campus is the grotto, where a re-creation of the shrine at Lourdes, France, is laid out amidst a grove of trees and flowers.

During the late 1960's and early 1970's, the area had fallen victim to relative neglect, but in the past year and a half, a student committee has made remarkable progress in restoring much of the grotto's natural beauty.

Step number one in the cleanup project came in the early spring of 1977 when student workers removed weeds, dead brush and assorted debris from the area.

Last fall, pathways leading into and around the grotto were lined with bricks, pathways themselves were filled with crushed stone, trees were trimmed, bushes were pruned and the kneelers in the grotto were repainted.

Also during the 1977-78 school year, the statues of the Blessed Virgin and Saint Bernadette were repainted, and a new statue of Saint Joseph holding the baby Jesus was donated by 1978 graduate Tom Conde of Merrillville, Ind. Conde was co-chairman of the grotto improvement committee.

A vigil light has been placed in the agony cove and the campus Pastoral Council has agreed to finance the candles that burn in that cove throughout each week.

Conde also has suggested that a permanent grotto committee be formed to be responsible for the permanent upkeep of the area. "This would be one way of making sure that improvements are undertaken in the grotto whenever they become necessary," he explains.

Dear Saint Joe Alumni and Alumnae,

During the last weekend in June, your Alumni Board met both in a joint session with the college Board of Trustees and later in its own general session. Both meetings were extremely productive and informative. Topics ranged from increasing endowment funding to intramural sports. Much was accomplished with regard to Homecoming plans. Mike Smith and "Company" are again assembling a Homecoming program that makes Oct. 14 a must on your calendar.

It's with great pride and pleasure that I report the Alumni Board's election of Dr. Ken Ahler as your new alumni president-elect and Mike Smith your new alumni vice-president for alumni relations. These men will begin their two-year terms of office in the summer of 1979. Ken has been a significant force in alumni matters and general college affairs for many years, and his leadership, ability and concern for Saint Joe's will play an important role in our future. Mike has continued as one of the most resourceful and energetic alumni we have; and his future involvement in alumni relations work guarantees a successful program.

As the summer of '78 progresses, many people are concentrating on and planning for the future of Saint Joseph's College. Somewhere out there, the Class of '82, yet unassembled and still composed of strangers is preparing to join us in the Saint Joe "experience". It's an exciting time at Saint Joe's. The "cycle" is about to begin again. We should all take deep pride in the role we play in promoting and sustaining Saint Joe's as she prepares to welcome the Class of '82. Work has already begun in assembling the Class of '83, by the way, for that's the nature of the "cycle." If you want to be involved in something truly important, come see us . . . we've got a job for you.

Sincerely,

Dale W. Fallat

Gallagher Hall Wins Club-Of-Year Award

Gallagher Hall has been named the club-of-the-year by a vote of the Student Senate at Saint Joseph's College for the 1977-78 school year.

Club-of-the-year is chosen by the Senate on the basis of nominations from student senators. Senators nominate clubs, classes, organizations or dormitories for the honor on basis of a group's activities on and off-campus during a given school year.

Gallagher Hall won the 1977-78 honor on basis of several major projects, including a floor hockey marathon which raised $1500 for the poor, a softball marathon that netted $300 for muscular dystrophy, and campus spirit the dormitory expressed throughout the year.

Tough Schedule Faces Puma Gridders

Saint Joseph's, which enters the 1978 grid campaign classified as an NCAA Division III member, and a new member of the newly-formed Heartland Conference, faces one of the most challenging Division III schedules in the nation. The 1978 Pumas play against six Division II opponents, and four Division III opponents, one of which was a 1977 Division III Stagg Bowl finalist, Wabash College.

The Pumas welcome back 26 lettermen, representing the largest contingent of returning lettermen that Saint Joseph's has had in years. The Pumas lost nine lettermen from their 1977 Indiana Collegiate Conference co-championship team.

In all, the Pumas return 11 lettermen on offense. Returning at quarterback is junior Ray Banary (6-0, 175), who passed for 1,341 yards (92 of 188 completions) and six TDs last year. He will be backed by senior Doug Knutson (6-2, 180), who had one TD to his credit in the '77 campaign. In the receiving corps, SJC returns senior wide receiver Duwayne Mill (5-8, 170), team leader in receptions in '77 with 28 catches for 493 yards and two TDs, and junior Al Stupek (5-7, 160), who had seven receptions good for 77 yards in '77. Getting first crack at the flanker position will be sophomore Chuck Sharkey (5-11, 185). Battling for the vacant tight end position will be junior Bill Bryant (6-3, 215), and possibly converted senior offensive tackle Steve Gedney (6-2, 205) who played the position during his freshman season. In addition, a host of incoming freshmen will vie for the position.

Junior tailback Larry Shelton (5-9, 165), who scooted for 786 yards and five TDs in '77, returns to head the backfield. A replacement for graduated MVP fullback Greg Duggin must be found, and here the Pumas have junior Bob Rigali (5-11, 185) vying for the position with a cast of incoming freshmen lending support.

Along the offensive interior, the Pumas welcome back four '77 regulars. Over the ball is junior Jim Murphy (6-3, 218). Flanking him at the guards will be senior Mike Krasowski (6-1, 220) and either seniors George Descheemaker (6-0, 205), or Pat O'Brien (5-11, 205). JUCO transfer Dan Hawley (6-0, 220), will also challenge for a starting guard position. The tackles return intact with senior Bill Springer (6-3, 220) manning one spot, and should returning senior Steve Gedney (6-2, 205) move to the tight end position, junior George Liggett (6-3, 220) will get the nod at the remaining tackle position.

The Pumas return nine '77 regulars and 15 lettermen in all to their multiple defense. Senior middleguard Charles Roarks (5-11, 195) heads up the front wall with a four-way battle for the tackle positions pitting senior Greg Jenkins (6-1, 210), and junior Jeff Simon (6-1, 210), last year's season-ending starters at the positions, against senior three-year starter Ken Soldat (6-2, 225) and junior Brian Wynkoop (6-4, 205). Sophomores Bernie Jennings (5-8, 185), Frank Randazzo (5-7, 175) and Barry Watson (6-4, 225) will provide key challenges at both the middleguard and tackle positions.

SJC head football coach Bill Jennings and his two assistants, Gerald Lasko and Fred Mariani, greeted over 100 football candidates when fall practice began Aug. 17. The Pumas will play in the newly-organized Heartland Conference this fall.

Blasting in from one flank position will be senior Greg King (6-0, 205), with sophomore regular Joe Bezilla (5-10, 195) returning at the other flank position. Junior Zpig Kepa (5-11, 190), sidelined by injuries his freshman and sophomore years, and JUCO transfer John Andreasik (6-2, 210) will add strength and experience to the position.

Heading the linebacking corps are senior Mark Greiner (5-11, 200), senior Jim McFadden (6-1, 220) and junior Garrick Roby (6-0, 195). The possibility of senior safety Ralph Waldecki (6-0, 195), a '77 red-shirt due to injury, vying for a linebacker position exists, and would add to a hotly-contested battle between four hard-hitting lettermen for the starting linebacking tandem.

Heading the veteran secondary will be senior safeties John Zaworski (6-2, 205), the leading tackler on the '77 team, and Kirk Adams (6-0, 175). Junior cornerbacks Mike Bettinger (5-9, 180) and Brian Brennan (5-11, 190) return to round out the secondary. Sophomore Greg Mueller (6-0, 180) is being counted on for additional help in the secondary.

The Pumas' kicking game returns intact with senior Duwayne Mill, who kicked 38 punts for a 37.0 average, junior Ray Banary, who kicked five punts for a 35-yard average, four field goals, and 17 points after touchdown, and junior Al Stupek, who was the number one kickoff man in '77, all returning for the '78 campaign.

Puma Gridders Join Heartland Conference

Saint Joseph's College, two-time defending Indiana Collegiate Conference co-champions in football, will participate as members of the new eight-team Heartland Conference this fall.

The five-member Indiana Collegiate Conference changed its name to the Heartland Conference June 1 at a meeting held at Butler University when the president of each school approved the league's constitution and name.

Members of the ICC — Saint Joseph's, Butler, Evansville, Indiana Central and Valparaiso — will be joined by new members, Franklin College of Indiana, Ashland College of Ohio and Georgetown College of Kentucky.

Sports which will be included in league play in 1978-79 are football, cross country, wrestling, swimming, golf, tennis, track and baseball.

This fall's football champion will be determined on a percentage basis, with a minimum of five league games needed for consideration. Plans call for a round-robin schedule among conference members by 1980.

Champions in all other sports will be determined in post-season tournaments.

Butler, Evansville, Indiana Central, Georgetown and Franklin are Division II football members. Ashland, Saint Joseph's and Valparaiso are Division III.

The ICC was formed in 1950 with six charter members — Butler, Ball State, Evansville, Indiana State, Valparaiso, and Saint Joseph's. DePauw was added in 1954 and Wabash and Indiana Central in 1970. Ball State and Indiana State dropped out in 1968 and Wabash and DePauw resigned in 1976 and 1977, respectively.

Franklin, which has played most of the former ICC schools throughout its history, has been an independent team since leaving the old Hoosier Conference in 1970.

Ashland, formerly of the Mid-Ohio Conference, has been independent since 1967. Georgetown, a member of the Kentucky Intercollegiate Athletic Conference in all sports except football, will maintain dual membership, according to a school spokesman.
